

Changing the Paradigm

We are Shaltazar, the Gavish Banenu and We have come forth to bring you Divine wisdom for these challenging times. We are here to tell you that you can do anything you choose. You have the Power. You just don't know you do because you believe what you were taught. You were taught that you are not good enough, that you are not enough. But that is a lie, an untruth. Why do you think you were taught that? Why were you taught to stay small? Could it be because "others" wanted to control you? What if you decided to take your power back, to take back the control of your own life? There would be some, maybe even many that would begin to feel uncomfortable. You see there are some humans who are afraid if too many people become powerful. It is easier to control the masses when the many are controlled. But unfortunately, your human history does not prove that such a way is "successful" so to speak.

For you see when those who are controlled, who are oppressed, get to the point of extreme frustration from being controlled, they tend to rise up and often fight back. But they choose to do so in the only way that they know. The way they were taught. To rise up, to revolt against those that oppressed them and to control them back. If you look at your human history you will realize that for far too long all human beings do is try to control each other. Often they desire to control those whose ideas are different than theirs, to control that which is different, that which they disagree with. This conflict has raged for centuries.

But NOW there is an opportunity for a new way of living. The energy of your planet has shifted and thus you can, if you so choose, enter a more enlightened period in your human history.

"What will allow that to happen?" you ask.

A shift in perspective. A shift in thinking. It requires a move from the energy of control, competition and keeping people down to the energy of cooperation, collaboration and of empowering people. It requires a major philosophical shift in believing in the goodness of humankind. It requires taking off the shackles of those who are different. It requires that you teach others to connect with their power. And We know your first thought is that once others are empowered they will want to control you. That is an old paradigm. That is old energy.

Don't get Us wrong, the shift We are talking about, if it occurs, will take several generations to happen. As some are empowered they may become more fearful. And their fear will heighten and they use their power in the old ways of controlling others, of fighting back and putting others down. You cannot expect people to know how to use their power properly when they had been suppressed and have lived in fear for so long. It will take time for the fear to melt away, for this suspicion to subside.

Your world is seeing a rise in fear, a rise in suppression, a rise in control. And it is when this becomes too much that people will rise up and say enough is enough. There must be another way. There are those that have come forth at this time in human history who are here to help change the paradigm. Yes, the young ones, the Star children, the crystals, the gifted ones, the strong intuitive ones who can live within the human construct and yet have a presence in the Higher Realms. You see it will take humans who have transcended the human paradigm, those who know they are more, so much more than their human forms, to help lead the way. Many have come forth and have sacrificed their human existence to show why change is required. Many have come forth to live only short sojourns by human standards. Many have come forth to cultivate very strong talents, only to leave allowing others to feel the great void left by their departure.

Much of what is occurring on your planet at this time is to help the many open up their hearts. In the arts, in the sciences, in technology, in entertainment, many humans who came forth with the singular purpose are setting the stage for the many to open their hearts. For you see the ONLY way your world will change from one of control to one of empowerment is when the hearts of the many open up. When the world realizes the need to feel more and think less.

It is then that you will witness more compassion, more caring, more understanding, more love. For when that is the case there will be no need to fear your fellow human beings. There will be no need to control others. For at the deepest essence of who you are, you will want to encourage and assist others to take up their power. You will not be afraid of those with power, for you will know that they will use their power for the good of the many. The need to control will disappear. The need to put others down will no longer be required. For humankind will then realize that coming from a place of cooperation and collaboration there will be lots of everything for everyone. Fear will slowly disappear and will be replaced by love. There will be a harmony and collectiveness never witnessed on your planet before.

But the story We share with you is but one potential. We remind you that you live on the planet of free choice. So how this potential unfolds will be up to you, all of you – the Collective Consciousness. We bring you this message so you may know of the potential, of the opportunity to change the paradigm on your planet. But how this potential will unfold is up to you.

We bring you this message from a place of love. And We let you know if this new way of living resonates with you then We are here to assist you in making it a reality.

With Love

Shaltazar
