Understanding the Deeper Meaning of Love

We are Shaltazar the Gavish Banenu, the Energy of 33, the Master Teacher and We have come forth at this time to bring you Divine Wisdom. Take a deep breath and feel Us for We are with you always and forever. We bring you only that which is in your Highest Good. We are not here to fix you. We are not here to change you, We are simply here to guide you if you choose to take Our guidance. We are here for support as you navigate the turbulent times that you are currently going through. We have told you that all life has purpose and know that what you are currently experiencing is for a reason. Not the purpose that you may think, for often the intention comes from a deeper place. From a place that you cannot always comprehend. The Invisible World works in a way that the four-dimensional world cannot necessarily understand.

But there is an opportunity for you to tap into the higher dimensions, the Higher Realms during this time of turbulence. The polarities are strong and if you choose to work the negative, then that negativity will be intensified. If you choose to work the positive, the positivity will also be intensified. We have been telling you that it is time to learn to love the parts of you that you do not like. But maybe, just maybe, you do not comprehend what We mean when We say, love. For love is so much more than a word that has many meanings. When you ask people to explain the meaning of love you often get many different and diverse answers.

But in essence, love is a feeling, love is a knowing, love is the All. The Source is love. The Source cannot explain to you what It is, and It also cannot explain to you what love is. It just Is. So maybe it can't be fully explained, but let Us try to help you understand love more fully.

Often you cannot explain to others what you are. You may use words like I am a human being; I am a man or I am a woman. But is that who you truly are. Are you just a human being or is there more to you that is difficult to explain? Maybe there is more to who you are that is below the surface that you don't even understand. That is part of the purpose of human life, to be on a journey, if you so choose, to look deeper into yourself. Implanted within your DNA are propensities, but the personal choices, and your personal life experiences continue to define you. And who you are, continues to change and continues to evolve. Who you were yesterday, is not who you will be tomorrow. Your life experiences are integrated into your cellular energy. They are integrated into the Akashic record. They are integrated into consciousness, into life. Who you are and who you are becoming allows consciousness to expand in an ever-evolving way.

And so, just as you continue to evolve, so too does love. For love is an energy, it is not a thing. It is dynamic, it is not static. It is more than just a feeling. And so We invite you to look at love from more of an abstract perspective, from more of an energetic perspective. Realize that love is merely a label just like your name is a label that represents who you are.

Begin to think of love as if it was you, ever-evolving, ever-changing. Love has so many facets to it. Facets that are beyond your comprehension. For love is multidimensional. So when We ask you to consider loving yourself more fully We are only suggesting that you love yourself to the capabilities of your dimensionality. Love in the four-dimensional world is very different than love in the multidimensional Higher Realms.

The love of Source is different than the love of a human being. When the Source sends you love, you can only absorb that which you are capable of integrating, embodying, and synchronizing into your dimensionality. Begin to contemplate the breadth and depth of love in your limited human world. Those of you who have had a near-death experience witnessed the multidimensional love of the Source. But when you came back to the human realm, you were unable to truly put into words the Divine Love that you felt. That is because what you experienced was beyond human love.

Begin to think of love as an evolving force, and ever-changing energy. It is all that is pure, all that is joy, all that vibrates from the highest of high. So when We ask you to love yourself fully, We are asking you to shift to the highest vibration you possibly can. Sometimes you can move to high vibrations but other times you can't reach as high. The love We are suggesting is one where you do the best you can and are satisfied with that. Your vibrational energy impacts the love that you can feel.

Let go of thinking of love in terms of definitions, labels or words. Feel the energy of love. Feel it grow, feel it expand, feel it tingle throughout your body. Let go of the limitations of what you think love is by having to speak of it, by having to define it, and instead open up to the expansiveness of love.

Feel the love, become the love and share the love. And if you are one of the fortunate ones, you will begin to push the edges of that love in such a way that you can connect to the multidimensional love of the Higher Realms while still in human form. You won't have to have a near-death experience to do so. Do not try or you will not succeed. Simply surrender, simply Be. Simply allow and the love will wash over you. We are beaming it to you and everyone on your planet every minute of every day. But you will not be able to connect to that love unless you become more receptive, more open, more vulnerable, and more available to invite it in. Often you do not realize that it is you that blocks that which you so desire, love. Open up, relax, let go and surrender. Allow the love to grow and to expand within you and then you will feel the tingle of that love throughout your entire Beingness. Let go of definitions, let go of the limitations and let love cradle you, let love guide you.

We are here for you now and forever. Our love for you is unconditional and everlasting. Go in love dear ones. Become that love and share that love with your world. And so it is. And so it shall be.
